

APACPH2025

The Asia Pacific Academic Consortium for Public Health Conference

Public Health Challenges in a Disruptive World

Host : School of Health Science, Mae Fah Luang University, Chiang Rai, Thailand

November 4-7

Conference sub-themes

Disease Control & Health Education

- NCD pandemic and injury Prevention
- Emerging and re-emerging diseases
- Vaccination strategies and community engagement
- Behavioral health and health literacy

Life Cycle & Health

- Physical activity, exercise, and nutrition
- Childhood health and early intervention
- Aging populations and chronic disease
- Maternal health and family planning

Community & Equity

- Health equity for minority, elderly and vulnerable populations
- Gender equity in health systems
- Violence prevention and community safety

Environmental & Occupational Health

- Climate change and environmental health
- Occupational health in evolving work environments
- Gig worker and health
- Urbanization and pollution control

Health Policy & Systems

- Health system strengthening and determinants of health
- Health promotion and literacy
- Global health security and pandemic preparedness
- Health insurance and public health financing

Future Society & Health

- Precision medicine and personalized health solutions
- Medical technology and artificial intelligence in health care
- Health informatics, telehealth and smart health care

Core of Public Health and Other Issues

- Epidemiology
- Statistics
- Behavior Science and Leadership
- Mental health and environmental stress
- Ethics in global health interventions
- Resilient health communities
- Public health education and training

Abstract submission date : April 25 – August 31, 2025

Online register

